

Professional Services in Colombia

Overview

Rely on comprehensive legal advice to professional service sector clients in a range of industries, including online travel booking sites, management consulting, outsourcing and public relations. We offer you seamless collaboration across practice groups with lawyers with previous in-house experience at services companies. We blend deep legal experience with intimate, practical knowledge of the sector.

We can help you review and negotiate service contracts with your clients. We provide general corporate advice, from implementing the most appropriate corporate vehicle at the outset of your client's operations, to assisting with the dissolution and liquidation of their companies. We assist with day-to-day labor and immigration law questions, social security, compensation agreements, terminations, and employee stock option schemes.

Our advice encompasses the full range of tax concerns, always focusing on minimizing tax burdens. We also offer extensive experience with the local and regional prosecution of IP portfolios. We assist with the management of complex IP portfolios and advise on privacy, consumer protection, information and technology, advertisement and promotional matters, and regulatory matters.

If your professional services firm is doing business abroad or you have legal concerns that span Colombia's borders, our offices in more than 50 countries can provide you with lawyers experienced in legal and business practices from across the world.
